BRONX MAN SENTENCED TO EIGHT YEARS IN PRISON
FOR SEX ACTS WITH 13-YEAR-OLD BOY
Defendant Will Also Have Ten Years Post-Release Supervision and Register as Sex Offender

Bronx District Attorney Darcel D. Clark today announced that a Bronx man has been sentenced to eight years in prison for criminal sex acts involving a 13-year-old boy, and will register as a sex offender.

District Attorney Clark said, "The defendant committed heinous crimes against a child, a jury convicted him and now will serve time in prison and register as a sex offender. We hope the victim can now move on with his life knowing this predator is behind bars."

District Attorney Clark said the defendant, Edward Gordon, 56, of 1451 Washington Avenue, was sentenced today by Bronx Supreme Court Justice Efrain Alvarado to eight years in prison, followed by ten years of post-release supervision. Gordon will have to register as a sex offender. He was convicted by a jury on February 10, 2017, of three counts of second-degree Criminal Sexual Act, and Endangering the Welfare of a Child.

According to trial testimony, on February 25, 2014, Gordon engaged in oral sexual conduct and anal sexual conduct with the child in Gordon's apartment.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant District Attorneys Jeffrey Pruzan and Jessica Morak of the Child Abuse/Sex Crimes Bureau, under the supervision of Joseph Muroff, Chief of the Special Victims Division.
